Death of A. E. Wakefield

A. E. Wakefield, whose illness has been noted in this paper from time to time, passed away at 5 o'clock last Friday morning, death being due to pernicious anemia. During his long sickness he was a great sufferer, but bore his affliction with patient fortitude.

The funeral took place from his late home Sunday afternoon at one o'clock. Rev. W. R. Hamlin officiating. There was a large attendance, which included relatives and friends from abroad, as well as neighbors and the local lodge of Odd Fellows, of which organization deceased was a member. There were many floral tributes, among them a pillow from the Odd Fellows. The burial was at Hardwick. E. R. Lilley was the funeral director.

Abel Edward Wakefield was born in Hardwick Jan. 19, 1847, a son of the late Ora Wakefield, and is the last of the family. Oct. 17, 1883, he married Miss Mary Thomas of Hardwick, who with two sons, Dr. Wakefield of Hardwick and Neil of this place, survive him. He is also survived by five nieces and two nephews. In early life he took up blacksmithing and followed that trade for forty years. For 25 years he was a deputy sheriff in Caledonia county and was considered a faithful and competent officer.

In 1907 he moved to Hyde Park and engaged in the livery business, which he carried on until a few weeks before his death. When the new jail was built he was appointed a Deputy Sheriff by Sheriff Towne and given the custody of the jail, in which position he gave good satisfaction.

Mr. Wakefield had been in poor health a long time, but in spite of his infirmities was of a cheerful disposition and had many friends who sincerely mourn the death of "Abe," as he was familiarly called.

Among those from out-of-town to attend the funeral were:—

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Thomas and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Lajoie, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Whalen, L. H. Warren, Chas. Stanford, Carl Cobb, and J. Campbell of Hardwick; Dr. Barr and Mrs. Helen Lewis of Barre; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Worthen of Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Rogers of Cabot.

CARD OF THANKS.—To the many friends who so kindly assisted us during the sickness, death and burial of our husband and father, we return sincere thanks. For the floral tributes we are especially thankful. May Heaven's blessings rest upon all the kind friends.—Mrs. A. E. Wakefield, F. A. Wakefield, Neil Wakefield.
